Crew of the Kniaz Potemkin Mutiny, Murder and Throw Overboard Officers and Make for Port, Where They Join Hands With Revolutionists—Peasants Continue to Plunder Estates and Landlords Flee to Cities.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) ODESSA, June 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The red flag of revolution is hoisted at the masthead of the Kniaz Potemkin, Russia's most powerful battleship in the Black Sea, which now lies in the harbor, in the hands of mutineers.

The captain and most of the officers were murdered and their bodies thrown overboard, into the open sea, and the ship is completely in the possession of the crew and a few officers who have thrown in their lot with the mutineers.

The guns of the Kniaz Potemkin are trained on the city. In the streets, masses of workmen who fled before the volleys of the troops are now inflamed by the spectacle of open revolt on board an imperial warship and they are making a bold front against the military.

All day long, firing has been heard in many quarters of the city. A number of barricades have been erected and tumult and disorder reign.

The main squadron of the Black Sea fleet, consisting of the battleships George Pobedionosetz, Tri Sviatelia, Rostislav and Ekaterina II, with the two cruisers, are expected to arrive here tonight.

A regular naval battle is in prospect. The rioters are in a most defiant mood, and are not inclined to surrender without fighting.

Reports of the mutiny, which occurred while the battleship was at sea, are difficult to obtain, as the mutineers refuse to allow communication with the shore, but it is ascertained that it arose from the shooting of a sailor who was presenting, on behalf of the crew, a complaint against the food.

According to one version, this sailor, whose name was Omiltchuk, objected to the quality of the "borchtch," or soup, and was immediately shot down by a mess officer.

The crew then rose and seized the ship and the officers, eight of whom were spared on condition that they would join the mutineers. The others were killed and their bodies thrown overboard.

BODY IS BROUGHT ASHORE. After a period of vacillation, the Kniaz Potemkin headed for Odessa and arrived here last night, accompanied by two torpedo boats.

Early today, the body of Omiltchuk was brought ashore in one of the battleship's boats and was landed on the new mole, where it has been exposed in semi-state all day. It was visited by thousands of persons, many of whom placed coins in a basket at the head of the body, toward a fund to defray the cost of a funeral, which the sailors purpose to hold tomorrow and which the strikers will make the occasion for a great demonstration.

An inscription on the breast of the dead sailor states, on behalf of the crew, that Omiltchuk died for the truth because he presented a just complaint of the crew.

The authorities have made no attempt to remove the body, the sailors having served notice that the ship would open fire on anyone seeking to interfere with it. A police agent visiting the spot was killed by strikers.

During the day a red flag was hoisted on the Kniaz Potemkin and members of the crew rowed from ship to ship in the harbor, forcing the stoppage of all work thereon. Food was supplied by sympathizers on shore who pillaged the maritime storehouses.

STRIKE IS NOW GENERAL. The strike is now general in the city and the rioters are growing in numbers and boldness. There were exchanges of shots all day, but the number of victims cannot be stated.

This evening, a bomb was thrown in Cathedral Palace, killing its thrower and a policeman.

A telegram from the Mayor of Odessa, who is at Moscow, imploring the citizens to restore order, has been posted throughout the city.

During the day, one of the torpedo boats which accompanied the Kniaz Potemkin came into the harbor and seized the Russian steamer Esperanza. The steamer was laden with 2000 tons of coal, which the battleship is taking on board.

The Governor has telegraphed for a squadron to be sent from Sebastopol.

"The whole of the quays and the buildings around the harbor, as well as much shipping, are in flames. Mobs of incendiaries, by armed force, prevented the fire brigade working.

"The city is appallingly illuminated by burning buildings, and terror prevails everywhere. Sleep is impossible and everybody is

The Benders are Catholics, and the Catholic priest at Manitou would not officiate.

ROCKEFELLER ASSISTS YALE. President Hadley Announces a Million from Him and as Much from Graduates. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) NEW HAVEN (Conn.) June 28.—President Hadley of Yale announced at the alumni dinner, this afternoon, that a gift of $1,000,000 had been recently made by John D. Rockefeller. President Hadley also said that $2,000,000 in all have been given to the University within a comparatively recent time, the other million being subscribed by graduates, in sums varying from $50,000 to $250,000. The names of the latter donors were not made public.

President Hadley said that the only condition of any kind underlying Rockefeller's gift is that the money is to be invested in income producing securities and preserved inviolate as endowment for the institution, the annual income only to be used for current expenses.

He added that these two millions already subscribed were to be considered merely the beginning of an endowment fund which must at least be doubled in the next year, if Yale is to maintain her position in the educational world. The announcement of the gifts was received with loud applause.

THE GREAT WAR. ENCIRCLING THE RUSSIANS. Linevitch Notes Disquieting Facts. Japanese Cavalry and Infantry Passing to North on Either Side of Him. Desperate Plot to Blow up Sungari River Bridge Was Foiled. Russian General Staff Reports Army Has Gained Considerable Victory. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

V. LADIVOSTOK, Tuesday, June 27.—[By Pacific Cable.] Japanese warships, believed to be torpedo boats, were seen on the horizon today. GETTING ROUND LINEVITCH (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) GUNSHU PASS (Manchuria) June 28.—The most disquieting feature of the strategic situation of the Russian armies is the persistence of the reports that Japanese cavalry and light infantry with machine guns are working northward of Kirin and west of the Grand Trade Route, toward Bodune. The Japanese cavalry on the west is under the command of Gen. Tamara and Akikama. Gen. Linevitch is not attempting seriously to oppose the Japanese advance along the front, but under pressure is drawing in his outpost lines.

HARBIN (Manchuria) June 28.—A desperate plot to destroy the bridge over Sungari River has been frustrated in time. Under orders of the Japanese, a number of Chinese bandits had for some time quietly been assembling in the village of Fudaden to execute the enterprise. On information, the village was surrounded and 450 bandits armed with rifles and revolvers and a large quantity of dynamite were captured. The loss of this bridge might have proved an irreparable disaster in the event of Gen. Linevitch being defeated south of the river.

RUSSIANS NARROW FRONT. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) TOKIO, June 28.—The following special dispatch has been received from Moll:

"Gen. Linevitch is following tactics different from those of Gen. Kourapatkin and is presenting his army with a narrow front, instead of with extended flanks.

"The reinforcements received from European Russia have been barely sufficient to fill the gap caused by the defeat at Mukden.

"An outbreak of dysentery at Harbin has made it necessary to send a thousand patients to Taitshkar, where extensive hospital accommodations are being built.

"Spies from the army of Gen. Linevitch are being arrested daily by the Japanese, those in custody now numbering between 30 and 40. A Chinese officer with headquarters at Pamiengkeng is alleged to be serving the interests of Russia by sending out spies whose number is said to be fully 3000.

"The city of Liao Yang and seven other cities are to be opened for the free residence of Japanese subjects, who will be permitted to engage in business and other vocations."

A CONSIDERABLE VICTORY. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.) ST. PETERSBURG, June 28.—The General Staff announces that it has absolutely nothing to support the many wild reports that Gen. Kourapatkin has been killed or has committed suicide and that a portion of the Russian army is surrounded.

On the contrary, the staff reports that the Russians have achieved a considerable victory. According to information in possession of the staff, the operations thus far have been in the nature of preliminary for a general engagement which has not begun.

They regard the movement of the Japanese in Korea as being most serious, believing that it indicates their determination to drive a wedge northward and isolate and invest Vladivostok before the peace negotiations begin.

There are indications that the Russians purpose to offer resistance at Tumen River.

DUTIES OF COLLEGIANS.

The President's Address to Harvard's Alumni.

Work for What is Best and Most Ennobling.

Greed and Graft in Business Life Condemned.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) June 28.—Alumni of Harvard University, gathered for the twenty-fifth anniversary of the class of '80 at Harvard University, the President was today the honored guest of America's most ancient seat of learning. By degrees of honor conferred upon him, as he already holds the highest degree, the university is empowered to bestow, but the welcome accorded him by Cambridge citizens, alumni and college officials was most cordial.

The President entered heartily into the spirit of commencement day, and played a leading part in all the functions incident to the occasion. The number receiving degrees from Harvard today aggregated 200, and included seven honorary degrees.

Following the commencement exercises, the President made three public addresses to the Harvard University, a second, and the principal one of his hour, at the annual alumni dinner in Memorial Hall, and a third from the President's Memorial Hall to the members of the alumni who could not gain admittance to the Memorial Hall exercises.

The speech in Memorial Hall, which was given in the presence of the mission of the college, evoked the greatest enthusiasm. Besides the more pretentious events of the President's programme included a brief visit to the Germanic Museum, where he sent a cablegram to the German Emperor, thanking him for his gift to Harvard, luncheon at the Porcelain Club and at the Chief Marshall's headquarters in University Hall, and a residence of President Albert Bushnell Hart, and a dinner at the Somerset Club.

During the first evening, the President presided over a conference of Secretaries of the various departments of the Panama Canal and also to give attention to certain cipher messages which had been received from Washington. It was arranged that the President should go to his car before midnight, although the train would not leave until 1:30 a. m. The train goes to Bridgeport, where the party will board the yacht Sylph for Oyster Bay.

EXERCISES IN DETAIL.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) June 28.—The second day of the President's visit to Harvard College, to participate in the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the graduation of his class, that of 1880, included a various program. The President was to deliver the principal address at the alumni dinner, and in addition was to participate in a number of festivities, mostly of a private nature.

The President spent a restful night, and among the earliest of his visitors today was the Hon. Charles Taylor, the woman who did the President's washing while he was at college.

After having breakfast at the home of Bishop William Lawrence, the President was driven to Massachusetts Hall, where the commencement procession was formed. The President was accompanied by Lieut.-Gov. Guild, who represented Gov. Douglas, the latter being ill. The National Lancers, garbed in their picturesque costumes, with red tunics and blue caps, formed the President's escort. The streets were filled, and the cheering, as the President's carriage passed, was continuous.

At Massachusetts Hall, a few moments later, they were joined by Secretary of War William H. Taft, accompanied by Judge Francis C. Lowell, Charles J. Bonaparte and former Secretary of the Navy John D. Long, and other distinguished guests. The commencement procession was formed. The President was accompanied by Lieut.-Gov. Guild, who represented Gov. Douglas, the latter being ill. The National Lancers, garbed in their picturesque costumes, with red tunics and blue caps, formed the President's escort. The streets were filled, and the cheering, as the President's carriage passed, was continuous.

From the theater, the President went to the home of President Eliot, stopping on the way at the Germanic Museum, after which he sent the following telegram: CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) June 28.—To His Majesty, the German Emperor, Berlin: I have just been visiting at Harvard University and the Germanic Museum, the foundation of which is largely due to your interest. I take this occasion to thank you and the German people for many acts of courtesy and kindness, which in recent years have steadily brought closer together the German and American peoples. This growing friendship between the two nations means much for the future welfare of mankind, and I wish to thank you personally for the efforts you have made to foster it.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

When the President entered Harvard Union, the students were at luncheon. He was greeted with cheers. The President, as soon as he could make himself heard, spoke briefly in a congratulatory vein, and in concluding led in "Three times three for Col. Higginson, founder of the Union."

This closed the President's stay at the union, and as he left the building the students gave the Roosevelt yell. The President, at 2:30 o'clock, went to address an overflow meeting of alumni of Harvard at Memorial Hall. The Harvard alumni dinner, at which the President was to deliver an address, was scheduled to begin at 2:15 p. m.

The President said in part: "A great university like this has two special functions. The first is to produce a small number of scholars of the highest rank, a small number of men, who in science and literature, or in art, will do productive work of the highest class. The second is to send out into the world a very large number of men who never could achieve, and who ought not to try to achieve, such a position in the field of scholarship, but whose energies are to be felt in every other form of activity; and who should go out from our doors with the balanced development of body, of mind, and above all, of character, which shall fit them to do work both honorable and efficient."

Much of the effort to accomplish the first function, that of developing men capable of productive scholarship, is distinguished from merely imitative, imitative, or pedagogical scholarship, must come through the graduate school. The law school and medical school are admirable work in fitting men for special professions, but they are in no shape or way supply any shortcomings in the graduate school. The college of the undergraduate proper, the college of the graduate school and for those undergraduates who are to go into the world, the ideal of high scholarship, which is to be distinguished in the sharpest fashion from the mere transmission of ready-made knowledge without adding to it.

"If America is to contribute its full share to the progress not alone of knowledge, but of wisdom, then we must put even greater emphasis on university work done along the lines of the graduate school. We can best help the growth of American scholarship by sending the best of our graduates out on a level with the other careers open to our young men. The balanced development of body, of mind, and above all, of character, which shall fit them to do work both honorable and efficient."

"The very rich man who conducts his business as if he believed that he was a law unto himself, thereby immensely increases the difficulty of the task of upholding order when the disorder is a menace to men of property; for if the community feels that rich men disregard the law where it affects themselves, then the community is apt to assume the dangerous view that the attitude of condoning crimes of the wealthy is a necessary evil. It is the attitude which produces it."

"We have a right to appeal to the alumni of Harvard, and to the alumni of every institution of learning in this land, to do their part in creating a public opinion which shall demand of all men of means, and especially of the men of vast fortune, that they set an example to their less fortunate brethren, by way they scrupulously not only to the letter, but to the spirit of the laws, and by acknowledging in the heartiest fashion the moral obligation which rests upon them, but which stand back of and above all laws."

"It is far more important that they should conduct their business affairs decently than that they should spend the surplus of their fortunes in philanthropy. The President said: 'The men who go out from Harvard into the great world of American life bear a heavy burden of responsibility. They are the only men who show their gratitude to their alma mater is by doing their full duty to the nation as a whole, and by showing the highest only if they combine the high resolve to work for what is best and most ennobling with the least resolute purpose to achieve the highest results when the end of their days come they shall feel that they have actually achieved results and not merely talked of achieving them.'"

PIUS PENNSYLVANIAN'S GUEST.

ROME, June 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Messenger today says that if the Pope decides to leave the Vatican during the hot weather he is most likely to go to the famous Benedictine abbey of Monte Cassino, business life in this country we rightly regard upon the theory that it is more important to care for the welfare of the average man than to put a premium upon the exertions of the exceptional. But we must not forget that the establishment of such a premium for the exceptional, though of less importance is nevertheless of very great importance. But a great many people in the ranks of life from which most college men are drawn seem to forget that they should conduct themselves with equal severity those who break the law by committing crimes of mob violence, and those who break the law, or who actively encourage it, but so cunningly that they cannot be discovered, the crimes they commit being not those of physical outrage, but those of greed and craft on the largest scale."

"GREED" AND "GRAFT."

"Take such a question as the enforcement of the law. It is, of course, elementary to say that this is the first requisite for civilization at all. But a great many people in the ranks of life from which most college men are drawn seem to forget that they should conduct themselves with equal severity those who break the law by committing crimes of mob violence, and those who break the law, or who actively encourage it, but so cunningly that they cannot be discovered, the crimes they commit being not those of physical outrage, but those of greed and craft on the largest scale."

"The very rich man who conducts his business as if he believed that he was a law unto himself, thereby immensely increases the difficulty of the task of upholding order when the disorder is a menace to men of property; for if the community feels that rich men disregard the law where it affects themselves, then the community is apt to assume the dangerous view that the attitude of condoning crimes of the wealthy is a necessary evil. It is the attitude which produces it."

"We have a right to appeal to the alumni of Harvard, and to the alumni of every institution of learning in this land, to do their part in creating a public opinion which shall demand of all men of means, and especially of the men of vast fortune, that they set an example to their less fortunate brethren, by way they scrupulously not only to the letter, but to the spirit of the laws, and by acknowledging in the heartiest fashion the moral obligation which rests upon them, but which stand back of and above all laws."

"It is far more important that they should conduct their business affairs decently than that they should spend the surplus of their fortunes in philanthropy. The President said: 'The men who go out from Harvard into the great world of American life bear a heavy burden of responsibility. They are the only men who show their gratitude to their alma mater is by doing their full duty to the nation as a whole, and by showing the highest only if they combine the high resolve to work for what is best and most ennobling with the least resolute purpose to achieve the highest results when the end of their days come they shall feel that they have actually achieved results and not merely talked of achieving them.'"

PIUS PENNSYLVANIAN'S GUEST.

ROME, June 28.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Messenger today says that if the Pope decides to leave the Vatican during the hot weather he is most likely to go to the famous Benedictine abbey of Monte Cassino, business life in this country we rightly regard upon the theory that it is more important to care for the welfare of the average man than to put a premium upon the exertions of the exceptional. But we must not forget that the establishment of such a premium for the exceptional, though of less importance is nevertheless of very great importance. It is important even to the development of the average man, for the average of all is raised by the work of the great masters."

The President said the American scientist and the American scholar, who have the chance at least of winning such prizes as are open to them, should be encouraged to do so. England, or France, where the rewards paid for first-class scholarly achievement are as much above those paid in this country as our rewards for first-class achievement in industry or law are above those paid abroad.

RUEF'S CUBS BREAK LOOSE.

Mayor Schmitz Gives an Exhibition of His Revenge.

Union Newsboys Assault San Francisco Citizens.

Instructed Police Make No Effort to Stop Outrage.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] San Francisco was greeted today to a singular exhibition of revenge of Mayor Schmitz and Boss Ruef against the Evening Bulletin, which has exposed the grafting.

Ruef had a meeting of newsboys called last evening and secured the passage of some resolutions boycotting the Bulletin, and warning all newsboys belonging to the union not to handle it. Then a cheap feed was given the boys today, they were only refused to sell the Bulletin in the streets, but they destroyed any copies of the paper they could lay hands on.

The spectacle was presented on every street of men coming out of the Bulletin office and being assaulted by gangs of hoodlums, beaten and papers destroyed. Police officers, being near made, no move to prevent this outrage. In several parts of the town boys attempted to sell Buletins, but were driven out. At the ferry, a one-armed man who has sold papers for years had Buletins as usual. The boys fell upon him, knocked him down and brutally kicked him. A sergeant of police was near by, but offered no interference with these young hoodlums. The Bulletin retaliated by printing a cartoon on its first page representing Wyman, Stephens and Rebeckstock, the three young hoodlums, in uniform carrying banners labeled: "Boycott the Bulletin," and "Understand of these Ruef and the Mayor."

LIEN HOLDERS LIMITED.

OPINION OF IMPORTANCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Judge Howell handed down today an opinion of importance to contractors, material men and mechanics. He holds that section 1230 of the Code of Civil Procedure is unconstitutional. The result of his decision is to disqualify materially the fund upon which material men and mechanics can hope to recover for materials furnished and labor performed in cases where a contractor fails to carry out his contract or abandons it before completion.

The particular suits are fifteen consolidated lien cases representing between thirty and forty claimants. The suits sought by these claimants aggregate $10,000, exclusive of costs and counsel fees. The title of the case is Jockley vs. Oxnard. Work on Robert Oxnard's residence on Broadway in this city was abandoned by the contractor. The court holds that the owner should not be called upon to pay more than the original contract price for his building. Under this decision, the court held that lien holders were barred in their recovery to the fund of $1184, deposited in court by Oxnard.

DOCTOR and PATIENT

PREFACE

Nothing could be a stronger endorsement of the great and wonderful curative action of Wine of Cardui on women than the following two letters from a doctor and his lady patient, which we have been kindly permitted to publish. We ask you to read them carefully. They speak for themselves and bear upon their face the impress of truth.

THE DOCTOR'S LETTER

THE CHATTANOOGA MEDICINE CO., Chattanooga, Tenn.

I enclose letter from patient of mine. This lady had an acute attack of jaundice, which became chronic. I saw her after she had been treated by good doctors and advised an operation, which was performed by myself and Dr. Cooper with but slight improvement, and we abandoned all hope of recovery. She was advised by some friends to use Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught and is now well, after having used them only six weeks. Her menses had been stopped for ten months and are now re-established.

C. W. KINNISON, M. D., Oak Hill, W. Va.

THE PATIENT'S LETTER

DEAR DR. KINNISON:—Well, doctor, I reckon you think I am dead, as I have not written for any more medicine. I have been drinking myself. I thought I would try Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught, and they did me so much good I kept on. I have not had a chill for weeks and am lots stronger. I have done most of my work for two weeks. Doctor, I give this medicine all the praise. I will not give you down if Cardui did cure me. Don't let me hear of me for quitting your medicine. I am quit to try another doctor, as some people are. You are my doctor and will be as long as I am in the county. My menses are all right now.

TOTEM SHAVERS MAKE WAR.

TRY TO CONTROL BARBERS OF SAN DIEGO.

Seek to Dictate to the Public When, How, and Under What Circumstances, It Shall Receive the Application of the Lather and Blade. Option on Big Property.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES)

SAN DIEGO, June 23.—A war is on between union and non-union barber shops in the city. The former want to shut up shop on Sunday and certain hours each day, while the latter claim the right to keep open as many hours as they please. The union supporters are to take the matter up with the City Council in the effort of securing the passage of an ordinance favorable to their contention. The non-union barber shops have filed two remonstrances and have more on the way.

OPTION ON BIG PROPERTY.

Papers filed in the County Recorder's office this morning show that Ed Fletcher of this city has obtained an option on the Agua Tibia ranch, containing 1200 acres, for which he agrees to pay $25,000, and on 894 acres adjoining for $20,000. It is also reported that at least one other party has obtained an option on the Pauma ranch containing 14,000 acres. The property lies in the San Luis Rey Valley and has valuable water-right privileges from the San Luis Rey River. Fletcher is acting as the agent for the American Lithia and Soda Company, which has several millionaires in its list of directors. The company owns the Pala lithia mines. One of the plans of the company is to build a railroad from Oceanside to Pala, in order to develop the mines on a large scale. The company has subscribed $2000 for the railroad. The country is also to be developed agriculturally.

BAY TOWN DRIFT.

A gang of men was put at work this morning on the new electric road to be built on Sixth and C streets by E. S. Habcock. The scarcity of laborers has delayed the project somewhat, but men have now been secured and the work will be pushed to completion. The plans for the new Methodist Church in this city, which is to have a seating capacity of 2000 persons, have been approved by the official board, and they will now go before the congregation for acceptance. A hitch has occurred in the Manuel Estrada extradition proceedings. José María Obando, a Mexican officer, has arrived here with extradition papers from the Governor, but United States Commissioner Knoles refuses to recognize them until they have received the approval of the President. Evidence was taken today before the commissioner relative to the robbery which Estrada committed in Lower California. He held up a stage.

MAMMOTH HOT SPRINGS, June 18, 1905.

G. E. Magoon, Conductor:

Dear Sir—The undersigned members of Grafton's first party this season to Yellowstone Park, Alaska, etc., leaving Los Angeles June 8, 1905, express our entire satisfaction with the trip thus far made. We have now been ten days on the way, having visited Salt Lake City and spent a very enjoyable day sight seeing, an splendid view of the visit being a special organ recital at the great Mormon Tabernacle, arranged for by Mr. Grafton, who accompanied us as far as that city.

Of the tour through this "Wonderland," Yellowstone Park, no words from us can do the subject justice. Incomprehensible magnificence can better express what we have witnessed.

Our stage ride into the Park by way of Monica was one of the most delightful parts of the journey, the staging being arranged easily and hotel accommodations excellent, and we can heartily endorse this way of entering the Park.

We are having a most delightful trip.

BLEW OUT HIS BRAINS.
COMSTOCK LESSEE'S SUICIDE.
RENO (Nev.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alfred Bennetts, lessee of Lander's mill at Silver City and one of the prominent mine owners of the Comstock, committed suicide today by blowing his brains out with a revolver. No motive is assigned for his act, as he was wealthy and had never mentioned having had any trouble. He had been in the mill all day superintending work, and seemed in the best of spirits.

Just before the mill closed for the night, he walked into his private office, and putting a revolver in his mouth, fired a shot through his head. The bullet came out behind his right ear. He was 53 years of age, and was a prominent Mason.

COUNTERFEITER'S END.
DEATH SIGNS HIS RELEASE.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
TACOMA (Wash.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Death last night released Frank Richards from a five years' sentence at McNeil's Island, pronounced by Judge Hanford a week ago today.

Mrs. Mason, alias McCarthy, who shocked the Y. W. C. A. ladies.

In January, secret service officers raided a house at Columbia City where Richards was living with his sister, Mrs. McDonald, and her husband. Richards was caught pouring metal into moulds for making half dollars. He pleaded guilty and swore that neither of the McDonalds knew the nature of his occupation. This cleared them, and he was given five years, with fine of $100. On the way to prison he was found ailing from a complication of diseases. His relatives in Seattle whom he saved from prosecution have taken charge of the remains.

TWO BAD ONES.

The police are looking for two Mexican robbers who have been operating on the East Side, and who are said to be desperate highwaymen. Early yesterday morning Pompeyo Garcia of No. 228 Mission road, reported to the police that he had been robbed by two men near his home. Garcia says they hit him over the head with a revolver and robbed him of $19.50 in silver. Julian Arviso, a Mexican who was very drunk, met two detectives on Macy street, Tuesday night, and told them he had been held up by two Mexicans who secured $22 and a silver watch. He could give only a meager description of his assailants.

Deadly Quarrel Over Ditch.

FRESNO, June 23.—Jacob Bederonian was killed near Farley, this morning, by D. P. Taylor, foreman of the S. L. Helsingier ranch. The two men quarreled over the amount of water to pass down a ditch. Bederonian struck Taylor across the arm with a shovel, and then clinched with him. Taylor drew his pistol and it was discharged. The bullet entered Bederonian's chin and struck the spinal column. Bederonian was owner of a twenty-acre ranch.

Arrested for Counterfeiting.

DUNSMUIR, June 23.—Walter De Carlow was arrested today on the charge of passing counterfeit money. He is accused of having passed counterfeit five-dollar and one-dollar pieces at McCloud, Slason and Bartels.

Subornation of Perjury.

EUREKA, June 23.—George W. Bruce, the son of a prominent timber operator, was arrested here today on the charge of subornation of perjury. Other arrests are expected to follow. Mason or Mrs. McCarthy, wound up a startling but brief career in this city yesterday. Part of her celebration was a jag in the Y.W.C.A. rooms. She was convicted in Justice Chambers Court yesterday of testing two purses in those precincts. One belonged to Miss Helen Campbell, the other to Miss Donahue both of whom testified against her. Mrs. Mason—yesterday was her day for being Mrs. Mason—cross-examined them with mournful martyrdom. She is an old solemn woman who thinks like a flash, but talks in a plaintive whine of protest. Miss Campbell told the court how the

HANCOCK DID TWO MURDERS.

Trial at Pioche, Nev., Comes to a Quick Close.

Takes Jury But Forty Minutes to Reach Verdict.

Condemned Smiles and Gives Thanks for His Fate.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

PIOCHE (Nev.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The jury in the Hancock murder case was out only forty minutes, bringing in a verdict of murder in the first degree. It did not seem to move Hancock, and he smiled and thanked the jury for the verdict. The foreman said he was welcome. Judge Brown said no other verdict could have been rendered.

PIOCHE (Nev.) June 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Gross finished her testimony today after telling how Hancock had disposed of the dead men's things. She said that after leaving the camp where the crime was committed Engleke's bulldog seemed to know Hancock had murdered his master and made a desperate effort to get at him every time Hancock was in sight. Before the men were murdered the bulldog was friendly with Hancock, but afterward he had to be tied up as he was always ready to spring on Hancock, though he was friendly with Mrs. Gross and her son. She identified the numerous articles taken from her as those of the dead men and held in Fullerton since the story of the crime was published. On cross-examination by one of the best lawyers in the State, no part of her testimony was shaken, and she denied having been implicated in the murders.

John Richards of Pahump testified that he had visited the scene soon after the crime had been committed and found one of the men's toes. Allen Kelly gave Hancock's confession exactly as published in the Times about November 30, 1898, except that in the last part of the confession Hancock denied having said Mrs. Gross murdered Edmundson.

Maulm of Santa Ana, then deputy sheriff, testified that while on the road to State's prison Hancock stated he would never be taken to Nevada for trial; he would kill himself first.

SKELETONS IN COURT.

Sheriff Johnson and Deputy Frudenthal brought into court the skeletons of both men and many things found at what is now known as Murder Camp City. Marshal Wilson of Riverside identified photographs of the murdered men and said Hancock had served a jail sentence in that city. The defense offered no testimony. District Attorney Sanders made the opening address to the jury, followed by the defense, Attorney Thomas Osborne, who, to the surprise of every one in the courtroom, admitted that Hancock had murdered Engleke, but intimated that Mrs. Gross had knocked Edmundson in the head with the ax. It is believed this was done at the request of Hancock, who is still anxious to implicate Mrs. Gross. Osborne asked the jury to bring in a verdict of murder in the second degree. Judge Thomas Marionaux of Salt Lake City made the closing address.

HANCOCK VERY NERVOUS.

Hancock seemed to enjoy his trial up to this afternoon, but is now very nervous and has been since the skeletons were brought into court.

Beginning tonight, the Sheriff will keep a guard over Hancock day and night, and will take no chances of escape or suicide. In the evidence taken today it was brought out that Hancock had a large number of checks along the route after leaving Riverside and money was received on them, but the witness had forgotten which bank they were drawn on. Hancock burned the bank book a few months before leaving Riverside. Edmundson withdrew $600 from the Orange Growers' Bank, but it is believed that this was spent for the wagon and horses.

While on the stand to swear he was the legal husband of Mrs. Gross, Hancock admitted he had been in the penitentiary three times.

Mrs. Gross shows pictures of two homes and mining books, which indicate that her husband now owns very rich mining property in Mexico.

RANCHMAN IS MURDERED.

BODY FOUND IN FIELD.

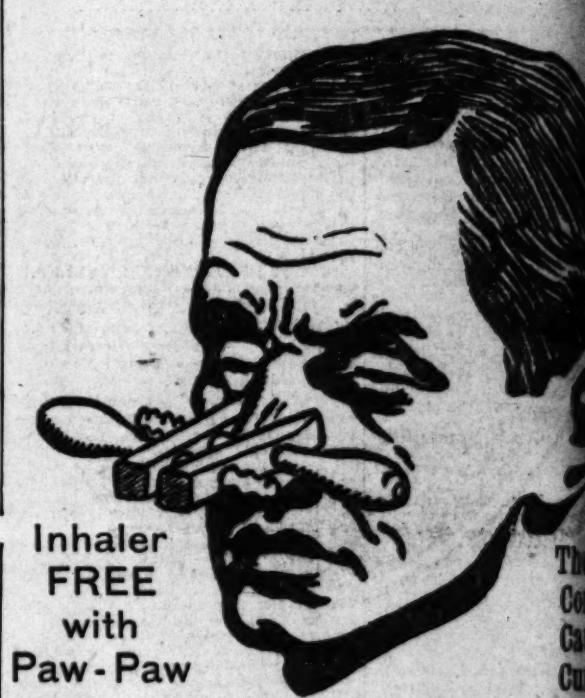

SAN DIEGO, June 23.—A. D. Keith, a prominent back country ranchman, was found dead this morning near his home between Foster and Ramona. He left home Monday morning to hunt for cattle, and when he did not return in the evening, his wife became alarmed and notified the neighbors, who instituted a search. One of the neighbors discovered the body about a half mile from the house this morning. Keith was lying on his back. There was a bullet hole in his head. There is no doubt that he was murdered.

MERCILESS TO MITCHELL.

SENATOR PALE WITH PASSION.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.) PORTLAND (Or.) June 23.—The case of United States Senator Mitchell will not be sent to the jury from present indications, before late Thursday afternoon. United States Attorney Heneey occupied all the morning session with the latter half of his argument to the jury and will not finish until late in the afternoon. Judge Bennett and Senator Thurston are yet to follow, with the main argument for the defense. Mr. Heneey in his argument has been trading the transactions of the firm in relation to land matters from the time the Senator asked for a copy of the firm's books covering the period from November, 1901, until June, 1903. His arraignment of the defendant, whom he charged with having been the cause of perjury of Judge Tanner and his son, and whom he charged with attempting to suborn his own secretary, Harry Robertson, to testify in connection with the false defense outlined, was merciless, and caused the face of the defendant to flame and pale with passion. Judge Bennett will commence to speak in behalf of Senator Mitchell tomorrow morning and will be followed by Senator Thurston. Mr. Heneey will then make his final argument. If time remains Judge De Haven will give his charge tomorrow. This, however, seems very unlikely, unless the lawyers for the defense take much less time than it is believed they will.

HIS NOSE IN A VISE MUNYON'S PAW-PAW AND INHALER CURED

Inhaler FREE with Paw-Paw

A great sufferer of Catarrh sent me a letter stating that he had been unable to breathe through his nose for nearly three years. That he had two operations and had been treated by a number of specialists, but every time he caught a cold the passages of the nose became so greatly inflamed that he was obliged to breathe through his mouth. That there was constant dripping of mucus into his throat and stomach, which produced Dyspepsia, Insomnia and Melancholy. That it had affected his hearing so that he was almost deaf. That he had noticed my advertisement claiming that my Paw-Paw and Inhaler would positively cure Catarrh, and with but little faith he concluded to make one more effort to get well; and much to his astonishment he began to improve after the first day, and although he had been using this treatment less than two weeks he is now able to breathe through his nose. The Catarrhal discharges having almost ceased and his hearing has been quite restored. This case is similar to thousands of others. Catarrh is not only a vice on the nose and air passages, but is a vice against morals and good judgment. It is a vice to be sick from and judicious if you can be cured. It is a vice to have.

Some physicians claim that more than ten per cent of Stomach trouble and nervousness are due to Catarrh of the nose.

Specialists of the highest repute state that Catarrh is a germ disease, and that the way to cure it is by purifying the blood.

They are absolutely right. I have seen every day with my combination medicine, Paw-Paw positively purifies the blood, drives all Catarrhal poisons from the system, makes one eat, sleep, breathe and live with vitality into the week and the old feel young.

MUNYON, Philadelphia.

MONEY REFUND.

To prove that I have a complete cure for Catarrh, I will refund the $1.00 bottle of Paw-Paw and Inhaler, a package of Catarrh Pills, a package of Catarrh Cream, absolutely free with every bottle of Paw-Paw. More than this, to every person who is not perfectly satisfied with my treatment, if they will bring me their outfit I will refund the same.

MUNYON, Philadelphia.

My Inhaler sends clouds of medicated vapor to all the diseased parts that cannot be reached in any other way. It reaches the sore spots, heals the raw places and forms a new membrane. It positively kills all germs and stops all Catarrhal discharges. It sweetens the breath and prevents deafness.

The Cecilian

is the perfect piano player. Its touch is absolutely non-mechanical. The connection between the mechanical finger which strikes the key, and the lever which operates the finger, is entirely different from that found in any other piano player, and produces a touch upon the piano key indistinguishable from that of the most capable human pianist. Its power of expression is limited only by the feelings of the operator.

The Cecilian Player Piano

perfect for hand-playing, yet in an instant is changeable into self-player, with the whole Cecilian repertoire at command. For those who have not pianos, the opportunity is presented in the Cecilian Player Piano to buy with your piano the ability to play it. Especially is it recommended for use in small parlors, where space is at a premium.

GAMBLERS TO PLEAD GUILTY, OFFICERS PUT ON GRIDIRON.

Figuring in the shakeup in San Pedro's municipal life.

President James Weir.

STIRRING developments have followed the sensational raid of last Saturday night on a gambling joint at San Pedro, when Deputy District Attorney Fleming, Constable De La Monte and other Los Angeles officers swooped down upon a stiff game, arrested five principals and took the names of about seventy participants. San Pedro has risen, apparently en masse, and has demanded that there be prompt punishment of those who had part in the operation of the gambling den and a shake-up of any officers who may have been guilty in permitting the game to run. Also that they did not know the game was running, has been hauled hither and yon by the District Attorney, by the grand jury, by the San Pedro Trustees and by residents of the busy seaport town.

Baker was before the grand jury Tuesday and that same evening was hauled upon the carpet by the Board of Trustees, a number of whom raked him fore and aft with a bombardment of questions as to the manner in which he has been performing his duties.

The five principals arrested in the raid—Blake Ruffin, dealer; Charles Avery, J. C. Dawson, John McKoon and Ah Kim, will be arraigned this morning in Justice Young's court.

Senator W. H. Savage of San Pedro, who will defend them, doing so, he says, through his friendship for their families, announced yesterday that the defendants would plead guilty.

BAKER'S BAD "LAMPS"

Ben Baker's bad "lamps" were the principal topic of conversation in San Pedro yesterday, and even on the night before, when the City Marshal was yanked up before the Trustees to tell how it happened that county officers from Los Angeles knew more about the haunts of the tiger in San Pedro than did he, an old resident and a peace officer sworn to do his duty.

Baker's repeated excuse was that he "did not see" the gambling and knew nothing of it.

This in the face of statements made that even young boys on the streets knew of the operation of the famous roulette wheel which was taken by the raiding officers, and despite the report that it was through the efforts of a number of high-minded women of San Pedro that Dist. Atty. Fredericks planned and ordered the raid.

From information gleaned yesterday, it appears that Baker's eyesight must be about as bad as that of an owl in daytime.

Yet the Marshal has a clear blue eye that indicates an ability to see far out to sea.

In fact, that is said to be the trouble—Baker saw too far out to sea. If he had let his eyes see-saw a bit from sea to shore, it seems that he might have seen more than was going on in port.

CITY MARSHAL GRILLED.

It was an interesting and anxious half-hour that Baker spent with the Trustees. He was called upon the carpet and severely taken to task for his alleged neglect of duty.

"Mr. Baker," spoke President James Weir, sharply, "will you please explain to the board why it has been necessary for Los Angeles officers to come to San Pedro and raid a gambling establishment, without the assistance of and even without notifying the local officers? Why have the local officers made no attempt to stop this gambling?"

"I never saw any gambling here," replied Baker. "I never heard of any gambling, and did not know a roulette wheel was running."

At this, President Weir scored the officer, and ventured the opinion that he had made no attempt to learn the exact conditions.

Then the Trustees jumped onto Baker for the general police conditions in the city.

Numerous drunken men, according to statements of board members, are seen on the streets on Sundays, especially in the vicinity of the street-railway station on Front street, between Fourth and Fifth.

"These men, it was declared, obstruct the sidewalks, use profane and indecent language, and make it extremely disagreeable for persons going to and from the cars, and especially so for women and children."

Marshal Baker said he had not seen anything of a very bad nature.

Here, again, came admissions by the Marshal as to the impaired condition of his binoculars.

"But," interjected a member of the board, "everyone else knows of these unpleasant facts." And the general opinion of the board was that it might be an excellent idea for the Marshal to consult an oculist.

It should be understood that San Pedro's twelve saloons are open on Sundays, just as on other days, not closing until midnight.

Jack ashore, of whom 2500 were in the port of San Pedro last month, is very much in evidence on Sunday.

when hundreds of sightseers are out for a holiday, going through San Pedro to Catalina, spending the day viewing the big government breakwater, or wandering over the hills in that vicinity.

"Gambling and drunkenness exist here," declared President Weir of the Board of Trustees. "Women are allowed in saloons in direct opposition to the ordinances, and if the present officers will not enforce the law, they should be removed and others should be appointed who will do their duty."

"I am glad this raid was made as it was. Baker has been told of the reports as to the existence of gambling and has been instructed to watch for it. His eyesight certainly has been very poor."

"The people of San Pedro demand that order prevail and that no law-breaking be permitted."

"If it can be shown that the Marshal has failed to do his duty, he should be impeached. It certainly seems that he has not been vigilant as he might have been."

BOYS KNOW OF GAMBLING.

"Gambling is going on at the present time," said Trustee J. T. Martin. "Everybody but the City Marshal knows it. He simply refuses to do his duty. Why, even boys twelve and thirteen years old know of that roulette wheel, and people have come to us and complained of it. But Baker does not know of it. He should be waked up."

"Drunkenness on Sunday, and gambling must stop," declared Trustee George H. Peck, who is president of the Bank of San Pedro, and owner of a large business block in which Luke Kelly, said to be leader of the liquor forces, has an all-round "good fellow" conducts a saloon.

"Several women have complained to me that on last Sunday the streets near the Pacific Electric depot were full of men, some drunk, and that they dreaded to have to go in that part of the city. We should either close the saloons on Sunday or have the car company change the depot."

Similar sentiments were expressed by the remaining Trustees, N. W. Tilton and Edward Mahar.

"DOING THE BEST I CAN."

"I'm like Pater Davis—I'm 'doing the best I can,'" said Marshal Baker to a Times reporter who asked him what he had to say with reference to the criticisms passed upon him.

"Did I know that gambling place was running? Of course I didn't. Do you suppose I would let such a place run if I knew it?"

"The raid was a surprise to me. I didn't know anything about that roulette wheel."

"They're always jumping on the police, anyway," and the Marshal edged away as he would end the interview.

"Why, I'm serving my third two-year term as Marshal and there never has been any kick like this before."

COLLEGE GIRL LED CLASS.

And Doctor Earl Rogers Took a Shot at the "Paisano" in Overall.

"This is an hour of congratulation for ourselves and pride for our students," said President Charles E. Nichols of the College of Physicians and Surgeons at the first dinner given by the faculty to a graduating class from the college. This banquet was spread at the Hotel Lankershim last night, being attended by the faculty and board of trustees and the class. The affair was notable because it is the first year since the college has been established. The class of six young doctors consists of students who had started at other institutions and finished up at the College of Physicians and Surgeons.

This class which graduates today, is composed of Newman N. Brown, Newell J. Brown, Jr., Luther M. Cain, William F. Stahl, Thomas S. Wasson and last but not least, Jean M. Martin. The last named, the only girl in the class, is notable because she passed the examinations with an average of 97 per cent. In referring to this, Earl Rogers, in answering to a toast on behalf of the Board of Trustees said: "In these days when they are putting women out of public institutions because they allege they have no brains enough to put in paisanos with overalls on to take their places, I take pride in calling attention to the fact that it was a woman who passed with an average of 97 per cent."

Dr. Nichols, president of the College, was toastmaster. Superior Judge Smith was one of the speakers and said, in part: "You are here to be congratulated on your success so far. The college is something that was needed. Why should it be necessary to send young men across the mountains to receive their general and technical and professional educations and training? It is not any longer necessary. Judge Smith also gave the young doctors some advice that they will find useful if ever they are called on to the witness stand: "Never be afraid to say, 'I don't know.' As you grow older and more successful, you will realize that the time when you recognize how little you do know is really the beginning of wisdom."

Earl Rogers, in replying for the board of trustees made a very entertaining speech. He spoke feelingly and to the amusement of those present of the trials and tribulations the trustees had passed through, alluding to every Trustee's foibles, except his own. "We bought a lot on tick, and Dr. Seymour, who had more spare cash than the rest of us, paid the first installment? After a while we paid for that lot. How we got that money I don't know; later still we put up the building, and it is paid for. How we got that money I don't know, but as we have none of us been placed so far, I presume that it was acquired honestly as standards go in these days of high finance. But there is nothing new in building fast. The only thing they don't build fast nowadays is men. And I say to you that if we didn't have that lot or the building but still had the men who have composed the faculty, we would still have a college."

Other speakers were Prof. James P. Booth, who replied to the toast of "The Faculty," Prof. Lockwood, who spoke on "The Higher Education," and Judge Wilbur.

LIBRARY BOARD THROWS "DEFL."

PRESIDENT TRUEWORTHY ATTACKS THE CLUB WOMEN.

Directors Vote to Stop "Gossiping" in the Librarian's Room, but Assume the Privilege of Smoking. Whether Against the Rules or Not, Ladies to be Heard from.

The Library Board last night threw down the gauntlet to Los Angeles club women.

Yesterday afternoon President Truworthly encountered a bevy of them in the librarian's private office. His reaction was about as cordial as one would expect in the refrigerator-room of a cold storage plant.

At the board meeting last night he closed a scathing arraignment of these women with a declaration that "women trying to run the government ought to have knowledge and sense enough not to hold receptions in the library."

Then the board by resolution instructed the acting librarian to lock the doors leading to the librarian's private office, which is also used as the director's room, and strictly to enforce the board rule against visiting in the library during office hours.

Following the routine business of the board session, President Truworthly rose to address the directors.

Instantly directors, reporters and attendants were on the alert. When President Truworthly rose to speak at a board meeting it generally presages an explosion.

"I want to inform you as directors of the library of what befell me this afternoon," I came to this room about 4 o'clock this afternoon and a lot of women here holding a tete-a-tete or lat-a-tat or some other feminine function."

"I was surprised—astounded—and I want to say that I protest against anything like this. The librarian's office is no place for women's receptions."

"This is not the first time, I am informed, that such a thing has taken place. The fact is it must be stopped. The library is not a place for women to congregate in and gossip. It must be locked against these women's functions."

"I was too courteous to object at the time but I am registering my objection now. This must not happen again."

"Women trying to run this government ought to have knowledge and sense enough not to hold receptions in the library."

"There is a rule against it. We should see that rule is enforced."

"There is also a rule against the use of tobacco in the library," added Director Rodman with biting sarcasm.

Two directors were smoking at the board meeting.

Director Wright promptly moved that the rule against visiting during office hours be strictly enforced; to this he added a corollary that the director's office be kept locked and only the directors admitted.

This motion was promptly adopted.

During the session there were a number of passages at arms between Director Rodman and President Truworthly, over the question of who is a librarian.

This question bobbed up in different forms at least a dozen times. Mr. Rodman always objecting because some action was taken which did not recognize Miss Jones as the official head of the library.

JACOBS PLANS TO BEAT TIME.

Figures Out 'Frisco Run in Thirty-six Hours.

Not Scared by an Attempt to Buck the Trip.

San Luis Obispo Country Cop Figures in Plot.

Another change was made in the plans of the Rambler record breaker yesterday when Fred A. Jacobs, Pacific Coast agent of the car, arrived from San Francisco and announced an intention of taking a personal whack at the previous work of local and northern automobilists over the rocky going of the coast course.

Mr. Jacobs will start at 4 o'clock tomorrow morning from The Times office, on the long thirty-six-hour stretch that lies ahead of him at the very least. With him will ride Mechanics William Fagel and Eddie Matthews of San Francisco, and a Santa Barbara road guide who is thoroughly familiar with every foot that will be traversed between here and Santa Maria where W. C. Henderson will replace the Channel City pilot and take the car through the night run.

Telegraphic advices which reached town yesterday from San Luis Obispo state that Frank Cook, constable of that place, has a warrant for the arrest of Jacobs for fast driving alleged to have been committed on the run down. This is certainly to laugh. Jacobs broke down on the road and returned to San Francisco; if any offense was committed, Torrey is the man who did it, and he alone could be arrested by any warrant which the San Luis cop might have. To guard against possible mistakes on the part of the official and prevent delays which might be trumped up to knock him out of a record, Jacobs will take along enough cash for bail money, but he does not expect to have any trouble when he reaches town.

Jacobs, who will pilot the Rambler back to San Francisco.

the proper representations are made. He is a reputable man with large financial interests in San Francisco outside the automobile business, and not one whom a country constable is likely to "monkey with" very much and not repeat any mistakes he makes.

Jacobs expects to "do" the trip in thirty-six hours without any infractions of the twenty-mile-an-hour State law, or the requests of the Automobile Club of California relative to careful driving when passing horses on the road.

"His schedule has been framed to cut out night running as much as possible. I want to be understood on this speed matter thoroughly," says Mr. Jacobs. "It is not necessary to go faster than twenty miles an hour to beat that record and set it at thirty-six hours. This kind of a run is rather a matter of endurance than of speed. That is the reason I would not let Torrey go back again. The boys were utterly worn out by the run down."

Mr. Jacobs has figured out the following schedule:

PULLING FOR BOTTLE WORKS AT SAN BERNARDINO.

Colton People Trying to Get It Located Between the Two Towns. President Henderson Submits His Proposition to Committee of the Board of Trade.

SAN BERNARDINO, June 25.—A special committee of the Board of Trade held another meeting with President Henderson of the Protective Glass Bottle Works at the Hotel last night. The committee arrived at a more definite understanding with him, which has tended to increase interest in the project. From present indications enough stock will be sold here to give the city the factory.

According to President Henderson, the proposition is to issue stock to the value of $200,000, of which amount it will take $50,000 in exchange for his protective bottle patent, $75,000 or $80,000 will be used to build and equip a factory of the type of the one at Corona, or $25,000 left will go as working capital, and $50,000 will be employed in promoting the concern.

At the conference the Board of Trade was represented by J. J. Hanford, L. D. Houghlin, Thomas Hadden, George M. Cooley, A. J. B. Brown, J. B. Dugan, while W. W. Wilcox appeared for the Board of Trade of Colton. The object of the Colton people taking a part in the conference is to prevail on the promoters to locate the factory between San Bernardino and Colton, which may be done, thus adding in building up the territory between the two places, and hastening the time when Colton will be incorporated with the county seat.

President Henderson will meet the citizens here tomorrow and Friday. He explains that there is any amount of raw material which is good for glass manufacture within thirty miles of San Bernardino, and encourages the people to believe that if the enterprise succeeds, the factory will employ upwards of three hundred skilled and well-paid mechanics.

TROUBLES OF WARDS.

An amended complaint will be filed this week in the divorce case of Mary E. Ward against John Ward, which has been hanging in the Superior Court for months. The present complaint merely covers a period since the last time Mrs. Ward attempted to secure a divorce, two years ago, while the new complaint will cover a much longer period and include the time the couple lived at Ventura. This will necessitate bringing here a witness of Ventura witnesses, which was the case in the suit instituted by Mrs. Ward two years ago, when between thirty and forty Ventura people were brought here to testify.

The Wards were married but a few years ago. He is a mining man, his wealth being rated at $200,000 to $300,000 as much again. Since Mrs. Ward married him she has acquired considerable property. Her allegations are cruelty. Ward has numerous friends here. His only reason for fighting the action is said to be his large property interests.

SAN BERNARDINO BRIEFS.

J. M. Cardiff has traded his sixty-acre ranch southeast of town to Edward and John Cram for 300 acres at Imperial, 100 hogs and $7000 cash. The estimated valuation of the Cardiff ranch is on a basis of $200 per acre, or $12,000, its value being on account of its moisture.

A youth known about town as William Williamson, and employed as a district messenger, was returned from Los Angeles this morning by Police Officer Jack Kettering, charged with the theft of a savings bank from one of the tenderloin houses, where he had been sent to deliver a message.

James McNamara, son of John Ward, a fifty-foot frontage on the south side of Third street, west of E, for a reported consideration of $25,000, at the rate of $500 per foot, which is the highest price ever paid for business property in this city. The property is improved and the heart of the retail section, the building bringing in a monthly rental of $200.

Frank Linville of Highland has sold to W. S. Fletcher of Fletcher Heights, Pasadena, 300 stands of beer at a reported price of $250 per stand. Linville is authority for the statement that Fletcher is buying all the beer he can secure, and has already bought 15,000 stands.

SANTA ANA.

BANKS IN TRANSITION.

SANTA ANA, June 25.—Application has been made to the Superior Court for permission to change the name of the Fullerton State Bank to the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Fullerton. A petition asking to voluntarily dissolve the corporation known as the Fruit Growers' Bank of Fullerton has also been filed here and will come for consideration of the court at its next session. The latter bank has been already reorganized and is now doing business under the name of the Fullerton National Bank.

The popping of cracker and noise of toy cannon has become an unbearable nuisance, and in order to keep the demonstration within proper bounds, the City Marshal has caused to be published a notice calling attention to the city ordinance regulating the manner in which fireworks shall be used and warning those concerned that prosecutions will promptly follow violation of the ordinance.

The real estate boom has struck Laguna Beach, and property that a few months ago was a drug on the market is now in demand, and beach lots are changing hands at high prices. Riverside and Long Beach investors are so far the heaviest purchasers, and contracts have been recently let for the erection of several substantial cottages.

Miss Belle Prewitt Johnson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Johnson, and Joseph Parsons, both of this city, were married this morning at the residence of the bride's parents on Third street. Rev. Leander Lane of the Christian Church performed the marriage ceremony.

FULLERTON.

WILSON-PARKER WEDDING.

FULLERTON, June 25.—At noon today a wedding took place at the home of Mrs. L. A. Parker on Commonwealth avenue, her daughter Miss Irene becoming the bride of G. C. Wilson. The drawing-room where the ceremony was performed was decorated in white carnations, smilax and ferns. The wedding party entered the drawing-room to the strains of a march played by Mrs. W. Goodwin and took their places beneath a huge well-ding bell of white and pink carnations where Rev. J. M. Taylor conducted the ceremony. The attendants were Katherine Hunter maid of honor, Bert West best man, little Elsa Parker and Ruth Collins ring bearer. After the ceremony a breakfast was served. The couple left on the evening train for Catalina where they will spend their honeymoon.

NOTICE TO LIQUOR SELLER.

At a meeting of the city trustees Monday night the city marshal reported that Jack Kellerman had been openly violating the law for some time. His specific charges were of selling intoxicants on Sunday and to minors. The marshal was instructed to notify Kellerman that his license will not be renewed at its expiration August 2 next.

The contract was necessary to amputate the index finger of the right hand, and the tips of three fingers of the left hand of George Weidley, the young man who was injured a few days ago by coming in contact with a live wire.

The Fullerton euchre club met at the home of Mrs. Kerna at the Fullerton yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Hilton carried off first honors, Mrs. A. Porter won the consolation.

The contract will be awarded Saturday for the building of an addition to the High School. The addition will include an assembly room 48x44, three classrooms, two restrooms, two bath rooms, and laboratory. The expense will be about $10,000.

Each lady brought a floral offering which she presented to Miss Jones.

Just as they were rising to descend to the second floor to pay their respects to the Mayor the door new open and President Trueworthy stepped inside.

"R-r-r-r-r beg your pardon," gasped the surprised ladies.

The atmosphere coagulated in chunks; icicles were hanging from the windows.

"Dr. Trueworthy, I believe. We are not surprised at encountering you here. We probably shall encounter you a number of times before the women come back to their own again in the library."

This from Mrs. Roy Jones.

"Well, really, nothing personal intended, I hope," rejoined Dr. Trueworthy.

One of the clubwomen stepped forward and introduced Dr. Trueworthy to the others. By this time the ladies were butting their heads against the bottom of the tube.

One by one and without the slightest relaxation, the ladies filed out of the inner office and down to the second floor.

Mayor McAleer met the delegation in his outer office. Mrs. Roy Jones presented the petition. The clubwomen asking for an investigation and suggested that two librarians be included in an investigating committee.

"I have heard that you are on the case as yet," said Mayor McAleer.

"Miss Jones has not told me her side of the controversy and you have given me facts to substantiate your assertions."

"We have not considered it our duty to furnish you with evidence as to conditions here, but we will be glad to do so if you wish to determine what the facts in this controversy are."

"I can only assure you at the present time that the 'Miss Jones' shall have justice," said the Mayor. "If she has been wronged the public shall know. After I have conferred with her I shall be in a position to make some definite statement. I cannot do so now. I have been misquoted already in some of the papers regarding my attitude, but I desire to assure you that she shall have justice."

VENTURA.

NOW FOR STORK RACE.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

VENTURA, June 25.—Ventura county is determined to do the best it can to put a stop to race suicides. One of the features of the coming Fourth of July celebration at Hueneme will be what is termed a stork race, gotten up by the Ventura County Stork Club.

The race will be under the management of E. M. Sheridan, who styles it "a human race." There will be a handsome prize of a silver cup for babies under 2 years of age, but this must be won by the father of the baby.

The race will be of fifty yards and the fathers of the offspring entered must do the racing. Each father is to carry his child. There have already been a number of entries for the race.

Fruit men are busy preparing for the harvesting and drying of the apricot crop, which is beginning to ripen and which it is expected will be ready for picking and cutting in the first week in July.

The apricot crop of this section, which as a general thing is the best of the season, certainly, is in this season a decided problem. Orchards in some sections are breaking down the limbs of the trees with weight of fruit, while in other sections the fruit is almost adorning as barren of fruit as though they had never known an apricot. This is the case on the Little-Sim, where most crops have been uniform. Now trees on the hillside will bear nothing, while lowland orchards of the height of the former will be heavily laden.

In the Santa Clara Valley generally there will be grown few crops, while in some sections there will be an abundance. In the Wheeler Canyon orchards the heavy load of fruit is breaking them down. The weight of fruit from breaking them down. In the Ventura avenue section, and in Sleepy Hollow, adjoining, the apricot crop is a crushing weight, and this year there will be no exception to the rule, but even in these favored spots the orchards are spotted as to producing quantities. Nor is the fruit all of uniform size and up to the average general expert. Experts are figuring on no more than half a crop.

LIMAS TOO.

The lima bean crop never promised better in the county, and because of the general cleaning up of last year's crop, good prices are expected. The weather of the last few weeks has caused the bean vines to take on a fine growth and they look strong and thrifty. As many acres are in limas as in any previous season, perhaps 20,000 acres, and a crop as big as any ever produced is expected—at least $60,000 have been produced.

The sugar beet crop promises better than in any previous season. From fifteen to eighteen thousand acres are in this product and the factory is preparing for a record-breaking campaign. It is expected slicing will commence about July 10.

JONES AND BARRY NIGHT.

Newman Club Honors Memory of Two Naval Heroes of the American Revolution.

library. When he put his objections in the form of a motion they were never seconded.

Miss Jones remained in the little room up in the City Hall tower that serves both as a librarian's office and a director's room during the entire session of the board. But the board members, with the exception of Mr. Rodman, studiously avoided her and directed a question to Assistant Librarian Celia Gleason.

Mr. Lummis sent a communication to the board asking that a leave of absence be granted to him, without pay until September 1. This the directors granted, and instructed Miss Celia Gleason to perform the executive functions of librarian during his absence.

Director Rodman refused to audit the department pay roll for June because Miss Jones's salary was allowed only in the amount of $100 instead of $150. But the department demands were read minus the appeal.

The board was trying to run the government" whom President Trueworthy encountered yesterday afternoon were: Mrs. Roy Jones, president of the Friday Morning Club; Mrs. Bertold Baruch, secretary; Mrs. Margaret Collier Graham, Mrs. Horace R. Wing, Mrs. W. C. Patterson, Miss Jane Miller, Mrs. T. W. Brown and Mrs. Ella H. Enderlein.

They came to the librarian's office from an informal luncheon at the California Club. The president of the board, Mrs. Roy Jones, said one of the number: "We are arranging a number of things, and we are going to call on the four members of the Library Board, who are seeking to drag the library into the mire of politics."

Just as they were rising to descend to the second floor to pay their respects to the Mayor the door new open and President Trueworthy stepped inside.

"R-r-r-r beg your pardon," gasped the surprised ladies.

The atmosphere coagulated in chunks; icicles were hanging from the windows.

PLACED ON PROBATION.

Harris Ford Abbott, who was arrested some time ago for stealing a bicycle, was in the Superior Court this morning. James Mills stated that Abbott in his employ for the past eight months and was an industrious young man of good habits. He entered a plea for leniency in the young man's behalf. The court decided to place the young man on probation with Mrs. Mills as the Probation Officer for the period of one year.

SANTA BARBARA.

WED AT THE OLD MISSION.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

SANTA BARBARA, June 25.—One of the prettiest weddings of the season was performed yesterday morning by Superior Judge Glauber at the Old Mission Church, when Miss Leonia Dunn and Jay Miles Smith of San Francisco were united in matrimony. The interior of the church was decorated, the altar being heavily banked with cut flowers and ferns. A large number of friends of the bride and groom and members of their families were present. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Gladys Dunn, and was led to the altar by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dunn. The groom was supported by the bride's brother, William Dunn, and the ceremony consisted of the celebration of nuptial mass and the benediction.

After the ceremony was performed the bride and groom were seated at the head of the table at the home of the bride's parents at No. 921 Bath street, where a wedding breakfast was spread.

NEW DEPOT CONTRACT.

The contract for the new Southern Pacific depot has been let to Paul Leonard of Los Angeles. The building proper will be 9x135 feet, but the dimensions of the entire structure, including the verandas are 8x184 feet. It will be made of concrete foundation and walls in the old mission style of architecture, with broad verandas in front and rear and at both ends. The floors will be made of fine tiling, and the roof will be covered with a covering of asphaltum over which the old Spanish style of overlapping tiles will be placed.

WHO PASSED EXAMS?

State Dental Board Still Wrestling With Papers of Applicants for Licenses to Practice.

The 133 persons who took the examination before the State Dental Board, and who have been awaiting the announcement of the list of successful applicants, are still on the anxious seat. No such list will be forthcoming until tonight, possibly later.

The Dental Board examined eighty-four candidates at San Francisco, and fifty-four in this city. Yesterday afternoon the board finished grading the papers of the San Francisco would-be tooth-pullers, but the papers of the local candidates are still being graded to revision today, so that the list is to be withheld until all applicants are passed upon. It leaked out last night, however, that more than 50 percent of the San Francisco applicants have failed to pass.

20 Years' Experience in Special Treatment of Chronic Diseases

Many Men Are Wrongly Treated and Failure to Cure is the Result.

In searching for a means of cure a man should exercise ordinary business judgment; should ascertain and employ the best treatment; stop experimenting and expensive methods which do not cure (guessing through the mail, etc.); accept treatment and those which tend to stimulate temporarily, resulting in chronic conditions. My treatment is thoroughly reliable—it is not guesswork. I not only cure, but give prompt relief. Direct treatment is the only way to speedy and permanent cures.

Varicose, 4 to 6 days

My treatment effects a permanent cure, normal circulation is quickly restored, and the parts involved rendered strong and healthy. It is the most effective and certain treatment yet known.

Stricture, 10 to 15 days

I have devoted years of special attention to the formation and eradication of every particle of infection and complete eradication of every particle of infection and as an inflammation or prostate disorder. Fully one-half of all bladder troubles, prostatic irritation, functional decline, are due to badly treated and partially cured disorders.

Contracted Disease

To be partially cured this condition is worse than no treatment at all. Chronic complications are sure to follow. Insist upon a thorough and complete eradication of every particle of infection and as an inflammation or prostate disorder. Fully one-half of all bladder troubles, prostatic irritation, functional decline, are due to badly treated and partially cured disorders.

Functional Decline

My method of treatment for this condition is the only effective means yet known. It is not a matter of time, but of method. Without resorting to drastic stimulants which damage the functions of the stomach, the EXACT CAUSE responsible for the disorder, and you may know just what you can depend upon, and I wait for my fee until you are cured.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, CAL.

NEWPORT NOW WONDER PLACE.

Manifold Charms of Orange County's Sea Haven.

Springs Into Life at Magic Touch of Trolley.

New Blocks With Plans for Another Venice.

Nature has been exceedingly kind, not to say partial, to Newport Beach. She has given her one of the finest, broadest and smoothest beaches on the Coast with a gradual slope which extends out hundreds of feet, affording an ideal and absolutely safe bathing beach; she has given her a splendid still-water bay, dotted with islands, its backwaters reaching for a distance of six miles inland and terminating in a picturesque lagoon a mile and a half in diameter and approached between bluffs which form a natural cañon waterway leading to it; she has given her a fine grove of cypress and gum trees, making a natural park and picnic ground; she has given her splendid fishing banks and has provided a breaker from the stiff ocean breezes in the shape of Catalina Island, which looms up immediately in front of this favored spot, protecting it from the cold winds whose harshness sometimes mars the joys of beach life.

With all these natural advantages, Newport Beach has hitherto been strangely slow in coming into her own. It lacked one thing and that was transportation facilities, which is enough to hold back the progress of any place.

About three years ago the Newport Beach Company bought the entire beach tract, extending over three miles from the Pacific Gun Club on the northwest to the sand spits where the bay empties into the ocean on the east.

Then things began to move. Newport Beach awoke as by magic from her Rip Van Winkle slumber of years and began to get busy. Since that time it has grown from a state of practically naked nature to a bustling town of 200 cottages, with a population of 800 souls, and is reaching out for more with a vigorous stretch of its all-embracing arms.

Last December the Orange County Improvement Company bought the tract west of the wharf and continued the improvements at such a rapid pace that it bids fair to outstrip many resorts that have been active for as many years as has Newport months.

During the past thirty days over $200,000 worth of property has been sold and the place is forging ahead at a lively rate. A new $2000 school building has just received its finishing touches, and last week F. A. Parker of Long Beach began the construction of a block of ten stores and offices on his triangle in the heart of the business section, just west of the wharf. Nearly all the rooms in the contemplated block are rented and will be occupied as soon as the building is completed.

Two handsome pavilions have been built immediately in front of this triangle and facing the ocean.

Sharp's Hotel, which is one of the old landmarks of the place, has been bought by a syndicate of which Mr. Parker is one, and will be run this season as a medium-priced house, to be replaced in the fall by a modern business block. The Hotel Newport, which will be the swell hostelry of the place, has been enlarged and improved and a new regime under Mr. P. Benborn, a well-known hotel man of Riverside, has been installed. He will see that his patrons have what they want, a complete sewer system has been put in and arrangements are going forward for asphaltizing the streets. A

Huntington Beach. This road's terminal will not be at Newport, but will be built through the town and along the beach, passing through Mr. Huntington's extensive tract just east of the town, down through East Newport and Balboa, probably terminating at or near Corona del Mar, formerly known as Rocky Point, and which is

are to make this the Venice of Orange County. Streets will be laid out running from the shore of the bay to the shore of the lagoon and with the contemplated canals and avenues, bridges, piers and boulevards, the island will be transformed into "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

East Newport has a double frontage, which makes it so attractive that the entire tract is practically sold to people who are chiefly men of means, mostly from Riverside, and who will build for themselves elegant summer homes. Three grand avenues are laid out—one skirting the ocean beach, another along the shore of the bay, each sixty feet wide, and one in the center of the tract 100 feet wide, along which will run the electric cars. There is a beautiful grove of cypress and eucalyptus trees which give an air of great beauty to the townsite by comparison with the long stretches of sand elsewhere showing scant vegetation.

Then there is the Balboa tract a mile farther on, with frontage on both bay and ocean, where a townsite has been established and fifty-six lots sold with building restrictions. A $10,000 wharf with bath-house, boathouse and pavilion is to be built at once.

Newport Bay is destined to become an important harbor, and will possess many advantages as the terminal of the Pacific Electric road. The wharf was rebuilt last year and stretches out 1200 feet into a depth of thirty-five feet of water, so that large vessels can land board walk ten feet wide extends from the wharf past the long row of cottages facing the beach for a mile or more. The water problem has been solved by J. H. Sharps, who has been a resident of Newport for a period of fifteen years and who has put down a flowing artesian well with a fifty-inch pumping capacity and sufficient output to supply the whole peninsula with water for domestic purposes. The well was sunk to a depth of 125 feet and the water has been analyzed by the State University College of Agriculture at Berkeley and pronounced free from organic matter and suitable for all ordinary purposes. This water will be piped throughout the town within the next thirty days.

Up to this time all the water used for domestic purposes at Newport has been hauled from Santa Ana, a distance of eleven miles, being brought in by the railroad in huge iron tanks. This lack of water was enough in itself to hold back the town from rapid development had it not been further handicapped.

The Peabody Investment Company will shortly begin the construction of a $27,000 bath-house, 100x150 feet, and extending out 100 feet over tide water, with a plunge 60x130 feet, and so arranged that one can step from the plunge directly into the surf, the extreme point of the bath-house being in about seven feet of water. There will be one hundred dressing rooms, a bowling alley, billiard and poolrooms, rest and reading-rooms and, on the top floor, a big dancing hall.

The Fourth of July will be a great day for Newport, for that is the date fixed for the completion of the electric line connecting it with its neighbor,

NEW RESORT HAS LEAPED.

Phenomenal Development of Huntington Beach.

New Trolley Lines Will Soon be in Operation.

Richness of Farming Lands is Valuable Asset.

Huntington Beach is beautifully located on a crescent-shaped plateau overlooking the shining stretch of sea. The town was laid out three years ago by the West Coast Land and Water Company, but practically nothing was done until it was purchased a year later by the present owner. His growth and development during the past two years have been simply phenomenal, property increasing from 50 to 500 per cent. Especially within the past six months the place has leaped forward with gigantic bounds. As an illustration of the rapid increase of values, the following may be quoted from the lips of T. G. Harriman and verified by others concerned in the deal:

"That corner lot," said Mr. Harriman, "with a frontage of 110 feet on Main street and 50 feet on Ocean avenue, sold last April for $5000 to the Union Investment Company. In less than six weeks I bought it for $10,000. That was on May 19 and on June 19 I sold it for $15,000. Is it worth it? Well, the man who bought it of me has subdivided it into eight plots and gets $20 per month ground rent for each plot which means 6 per cent. on an investment of $32,000 or 12 per cent. on his actual cash investment—whichever way you choose to figure it."

A café, a restaurant, a barber shop and sundry stores and offices occupy said block, all seeming to do a thriving business that ought to leave a good fat profit to the lessors after they have paid their $20 rent.

The coming of the electric car line was what gave the first tremendous impetus to Huntington Beach, the Pacific Electric road sending the first car into the seaside town on July 4, a year ago. The citizens are now preparing for a grand jubilee and celebration with athletic sports, fireworks, etc., on the coming Fourth which means to them something beside the birth of national independence. When the first electric car whirled into Huntington Beach there were perhaps half a dozen houses, and the first real estate firm managed to get its sign up in time to greet the first carload of prospective purchasers of town lots.

A pleasure pier 1200 feet long has been built and a tremendous jewelry weighing 200 pounds or more was exhibited as a trophy to a Times representative, the other day, which had been caught a few days before by the dusky son of the local barber—a lad half as tall as the fish was long. There is excellent surf bathing, an ample bath-house and a splendid flow of pure artesian water, clear as crystal, the public drinking fountain on Ocean avenue challenging the thirsty passer-by to a test of pure Adam's ale, no other kind of ale being allowed in the town, as each lot is carefully restricted against the sale of intoxicants.

Over three miles of cement walks have been laid, hundreds of tested trees have been planted, the streets have been graded and oiled and a fine, large school building has been erected, as there are 150 six-year-round pupils. A fine, brick bank building ornaments a prominent corner and the State Bank that opened its doors there last October was changed on June 12 to a national bank and its capital increased from $25,000 to $50,000, fully paid.

Huntington Beach is destined to be the Mecca for the Methodists of all Southern California owing to the fact that they have established there a permanent camp ground, and that a committee, empowered to act, was appointed by the Southern California Methodist Conference to fix on a location suitable for such a purpose. They investigated the various resorts adjacent to Los Angeles, and Huntington Beach offered, in their judgment, the best site and inducements donating four blocks of land, centrally located and supplemented by the generous gift of $5000 cash subsidy from the Huntington Beach Board of Trade. The committee accepted the proposition and the Methodists expect to lay the corner-stone of a large assembly hall during their August camp meeting and to dedicate the completed building during their annual conference in September. One block of the camp grounds is to be devoted to a park which will be handsomely laid out.

Arrangements are also going forward for the erection of a tent city to accommodate the G.A.R. encampment which will be held the first two weeks in September at Huntington Beach, and which will call together an army of old soldiers.

A month ago the right of way for the projected electric car line between Huntington Beach and Santa Ana was signed up and work must commence within five months and the road be completed within a year according to the terms of the contract. This will open up a direct line of communication with the thickly populated and prosperous country of the great citrus fruit belt, including Redlands, Riverside, Santa Ana, and all the intermediate towns of that thriving section. In less than thirty days the electric line connecting Huntington Beach with Newport will be finished. But it is her "back country" that Huntington Beach is especially proud of. The one particular resource and that which will cause the town to make more rapid strides commercially than any other is the adjacent fertile farming lands surrounding it—the famous peatlands—which extend for a radius of ten miles and are especially adapted to the growing of celery.

Seven or eight years ago this land was covered with fresh water and there was a thick growth of tules and willows. A few of the enterprising settlers got together and dug a ditch to the ocean, tiling the hundreds of peat springs which supplied this water into the ditch, thus effectually draining the thrifty farmer as fast as his celery beds are harvested puts in a crop of barley, hay or corn and gets an income of $20 or $30 an acre "between times" having the ground clear again and ready for setting celery in May or June.

Several of the farmers have made sworn statements concerning the capabilities of the soil, one of them taking his oath that on a single acre of land three and a half miles north of Huntington Beach he raised two crops of potatoes in one season at a net profit of $540. Another declares that his land produces sugar beets amounting to $100 and $125 per acre, alfalfa running from $100 to $150 per acre and he has cut as high as $254 worth of celery from one acre. The general consensus shows that the crop of 2500 acres for the last year averaged $150 per acre.

The Southern Pacific Railroad passes through the outskirts of the town, thus affording ample shipping facilities for the farmers who do not have to haul the produce many miles to find an outlet.

The building is to contain a gymnasium, buffet, billiard and pool-rooms, baths, library, reception and lodge rooms and is to be located near the business section of the city. The Elks building record is at present held by a Colorado lodge which dedicated its quarters on the first anniversary of its organization. It is the intention of the San Pedro lodge to excel this record.

Last year 2500 acres were set to celery and more than 2500 carloads of White Plume and Golden Heart celery were shipped to eastern points, netting the producers $465,000. This year 3000 acres are being set to this toothsome vegetable. At this writing the beds are being set and in sixty days the process of transplanting will begin and about November 1 the harvest will commence and continue for six months to come. The best celery fields lay within a radius of five miles of Huntington Beach, commencing within three-quarters of a mile of the business center of town. The profit from growing celery runs from $150 to $175 per acre and the land is valued at from $500 to $500 per acre.

These celery fields are destined to become the great celery fields of the Pacific Coast and will be as famous as are the Long Island fields of the extreme East or the Michigan fields of the Middle West.

CONEY ISLAND OF THE WEST.

Size of Avalon to be More Than Doubled.

Banning Company Building Four Miles of Terraces.

Tract of Seven Hundred Lots to be Laid Out.

To double the size of Avalon; to place at the disposal of summer or winter pleasure seekers more than 700 lots, each overlooking mountains and ocean, and each fronting on improved streets; to build a double inclined railway over both sides of a high hill for the accommodation of those who reside on or visit the new tract; to give fifty-year leases on these lots or to sell them in fee simple as may be preferred by the occupants—these are some of the things which the Banning Company is doing, and they are calculated to give Avalon and Santa Catalina Island a greater boom than the Magic Isle ever before enjoyed.

Catalina is a pleasure ground or as a place of residence during any season of the year is as permanent as the rock-strewn little island itself. Its growth has been measured by the growth of Los Angeles and the rapid strides made by all Southern California, and it is in this fact that has led the Banning Company to prepare for the future. Realizing that this favored section is destined to expand, the company has entered upon extensive plans of improvements which will more than double the capacity of the island resort, and at the same time add greatly to its beauty. The work is now in progress, and the terms of the contract call for its completion by the middle of August.

Along both sides of the hill which rises at the foot of Crescent avenue, four miles of terraces are to be laid out. A broad, macadamized turnpike is being built which will wind back and forth along the hillside, and between the beds of this road a new subdivision of Avalon is to be established. In the first subdivision there will be more than 700 twenty-five-foot lots. On both ends of each lot the road will run and from each a magnificent view of the mountains of Santa Catalina and of the broad Pacific will be had. There will be a complete and thoroughly modern water and sewer system, the water being piped from a new reservoir on a higher hill, first passing through filters which will insure its purity.

The laying out of these lots is only the beginning of what is intended. As the demand for such sites increases, other additional tracts will be opened, for the topography of the place is such that similar terraces may be built almost without limit.

Some idea of the extent of the first section may be had when it is stated that it would be possible to move all the people in Avalon to the new tract and still have room for more. The new subdivision more than doubling the available building space of the island.

Departing from its established custom, the Banning Company proposes to give either fifty-year leases on this property or, after a time, to sell the lots outright with such reservations as are consistent with the proper improvement of the place. When the road has been finished and the lots marked, maps of the tract will be prepared and then applicants will be able to make their selections.

For the convenience of those who will occupy the new tract, as well as for use by persons in what is now Avalon proper, the company is building an incline railway over the hill. The station on one side will be at the foot of Crescent avenue, and from there the cars will mount the hill and descend on the other side in the direction of Pebbly Beach. The line of this railway will be within five minutes walking distance of every lot on the new tract. The fare on the new line will be very low for those who patronize it frequently and for visitors the road will be operated much like the "Flight" road up the West Third street hill in this city. The construction of the road is under the supervision of Engineer Cobb and the work will be completed some time in August.

Every season at Avalon since the place became a pleasure resort has been a record-breaker—that is the number of persons who visit the delightful spot has increased from year to year. That the present season's business will exceed the surprising total of last year is already assured. There is more business and a greater number of visitors there today than in the middle of July last year. Reservations have been made which indicate that from now until November Avalon will be crowded.

VENICE.

FRANTIC RUSH TO FINISH.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

VENICE, June 28.—All is hurry and bustle and rush and bustle here. Work is being crowded on a hundred different contracts at once, and all are expected to be completed by Sunday, the opening day of the assembly. Out in the canal section bridges are being constructed and the calculation now is to turn water into the canals for the first time on Friday afternoon.

The high tower for the swimming tournament divers has been erected in the swimming pool. A half-hundred carpenters are laboring unceasingly on the amphitheater that fronts the pool. They expect to have it completed by Saturday night. It is so located as to command a fine view of the pool.

At the clubhouse three of the new green concrete lawn tennis courts are completed and the color scheme is so attractive that the idea is being incorporated into the concrete sidewalks new building on Windward avenue.

The ship hotel has so nearly reached completion that fires were started in the ranges today. In the auditorium the floors are being oiled. This immense structure containing 600,000 feet of lumber has been framed and erected in just twenty-eight days. The pavilion is also receiving its finishing touches. The electric wiring has been completed and it was illuminated today. Work has been commenced on the auto garage. It is to be a two-story affair, the second story being a clubhouse for automobile enthusiasts. The rafters have been raised for the Temple of Music and the ground is being laid off for a theater building.

Work has been progressing for several days on a small theater and aquarium that promises to prove an attractive feature. Rails are being laid for the miniature railway and it will be in operation Monday. The surf bath-house will be ready for dedication not later than Sunday. The laborers of Venice will hold a demonstration Saturday night and will probably be given an opportunity at that time to hear the big pipe organ.

Philip Denite has commenced work on a 200,000 three-story brick block on Windward avenue, and as soon as a few of the numerous contracts now being prosecuted are completed, the other Banning Company will begin

The Most Rapidly Growing Beach Town in Southern California

377 Lots Sold June 1-23 Inclusive
Sales During this Period Amounted to $177,310.00

A Record to Date from

It is indeed a record to date from in the history of beach property, and in the face of this record, it is almost useless to advance further argument in favor of this enterprising town. It's a case of sales speaking louder than words. We'll admit that we have advertised extensively—but does it seem reasonable that we could sell 377 lots in three weeks if we were not able to back up every single statement made in our advertising? To use the vernacular, you've got to "show" people in this enlightened day—and this we have succeeded in doing.

Buy Today for Profit

Huntington Beach, because of its many natural advantages and the enterprise, industry and capital behind it, is destined to become, in a comparatively short time, one of the prominent cities of Southern California.

Although now in its formative period, it is not a struggling town—but it is being pushed upward and upward by powerful, unswerving forces. Those who are investing their dollars in this wonderful town today are laying "fortune foundations." If you want a beautiful home site at a reasonable price, in this coming town—buy today.

Industrial Possibilities

Huntington Beach is surrounded by one of the richest agricultural districts in the southwest. It will soon be connected with Santa Ana by traction line, thus bringing the town in close touch with the world's greatest dairy farms. It is certain to become an important shipping center by virtue of its strategic position. The new water system will be the means of opening a rich territory of 2000 acres, just adjoining the town. The property will be divided into small tracts for fruit and vegetable farming, and will mean more wealth for Huntington Beach.

The Home of the Methodist Conference

The fact that the Methodists of California have chosen Huntington Beach as the permanent seat of their Annual State Conference, is extremely significant. The site was chosen after a careful canvass of the various beach cities, and Huntington Beach was chosen because of its grand location and natural advantages. The town will receive extensive publicity as a result of this annual assembly. Ten acres are controlled by the church people in the heart of the town. A large tabernacle and several clubhouses will be built immediately. A special subdivision has been set aside for the exclusive use of ministers and their congregations. The G.A.R. Encampment will also be held here in September.

A Wealth of New Improvements Now Under Way

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are being expended in establishing more public improvements to meet the requirements of the rapidly increasing population. The work of building a $200,000 water system is now in progress. It will be one of the best equipped systems in the State. Scores of men and teams are grading and oiling the new streets. The oil used contains 80 per cent. of asphalt. The finest cement curbs and walks are now being laid. A carload of cement is used each week. The new electric lighting plant will soon be installed. Huntington Beach is rapidly assuming a metropolitan appearance—go down today and see what industry is accomplishing.

beach resorts adjacent to Los Angeles are getting so numerous and are closely crowding one another, that it is no longer a question of where to go to the beach, but of how long it will take to get there. The entire curve of shore from the mouth of the San Gabriel River to Santa Monica, will be built up. In recent years one of the world's greatest naval Nature has done much to prepare the way for a great seaport upon San Pedro Bay—and the government is expending $2,000,000 to help nature in her commendable undertaking. The shadow of coming greatness looms up large and distinct. The seaport towns of our city are practically one and a part of us bound by bands of shining steel making a direct and luxurious avenue to the sea, over which dart the electric cars linking the city to the shore by a speed so swift that makes it but a suburb.

Long Beach is to the Pacific Coast what Ocean Grove is to the Atlantic.

on a direct line to our eastern possessions. With a magnificent beach, wide enough to drive half a dozen teams abreast for a distance of twelve miles on the hard, smooth sand at low tide, stretching around the splendid curve of shore from San Pedro to Alamitos; with unexcelled bathing facilities rendered fascinating by the long, shallow sweep of breakers rolling up the wide, sandy beach; with her forty miles of graded and oiled streets; her rapid and easy communication with Los Angeles, Long Beach is bound to be one of the great centers of commerce as city seems to be shifting from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Ships have multiplied and sea-going commerce is increasing at an amazing rate, and the canal across the Isthmus will add impetus to the movement. It is not long since by a keen observer of national affairs: "Yonder the Orient—in the stage upon the world's greatest drama, is played. Here on this Pacific coast is the stage entrance. Here is India, China, Japan, Australia and the South Seas, the west of South America, Mexico and the fact to the richest of the world and the new."

For years it has been the center of that great popular educational movement, the Chautauqua Assembly, and has been the recognized resort for conferences and conventions of a religious and literary nature which has given a strong intellectual tone to the place. Within the past few years Long Beach has assumed large importance in a commercial sense as well, and has made such rapid strides forward in the march of progress and improvement as to place it foremost among its contemporaries. Within but three miles of San Pedro it shares all that the future holds for this harbor, which is destined to become the principal port of entry on the Pacific Ocean, nearest the Isthmian canal and well as a popular watering place. A mile of her ocean bluff looking out upon the broad expanse of sea, forms a beautiful park, its landward view toward Signal Hill, that choice and lofty residential suburb, which is destined to become the site of splendid homes, and back of that rise the peaks of the Sierras against the sky. Long Beach, on account of her close proximity to San Pedro harbor has become conscious of her maritime character and expectant of her commercial destiny. Squadrons of the Pacific fleet have formed a graceful habit of casting anchor there when naval maneuvers are performed and

The floor of the ocean on one side, by its gradual incline into the grand old Pacific, precludes the possibility of undertows or dangerous holes that are often a menace to the pleasure and safety of surf bathing at some beaches. LONG BEACH.

the vessels engage in target practice, for which the broad, placid bay fronting the town is admirably adapted.

The growth of Long Beach during the past two years has been remarkable. Its population has doubled, the present census showing 10,000 residents, and half as many more are living in the immediate suburbs which will be annexed within the next six months. Figures tell, and a school census is an accurate method of determining the growth of a place. The increase in this respect at Long Beach is simply marvelous. Two years ago but thirty-three teachers were employed in her city schools. At the beginning of the school year in September the number will have more than doubled, seventy instructors having been engaged. In a single year the number of pupils of school age has increased from 2240 to 3223—almost 1000, which is equal to the entire number four years ago.

The school buildings have kept pace with the rapid increase of pupils.

There are already nine, and a magnificent new $20,000 structure which will accommodate six or seven hundred pupils is to be built this summer. It will be of the best and most modern type with a fine gymnasium and assembly hall and a Sloyd department which will be an innovation in the school system there. Beside this new building a $20,000 addition will be built to one of the school buildings which is inadequate to accommodate all the pupils assigned to it.

More business buildings are now in process of erection than in any previous year in the history of the town.

The most ambitious of these is the mammoth auditorium now going up just east of the pier and immediately adjoining it. It is directly on the beach facing the ocean and so near to it that the breakers dash at its very doors. This magnificent building is just the rise of the great Mormon

Temple at Salt Lake City—and ten feet wider, its exact dimensions being 150x250 feet, and it will seat 6000 people. Outside and extending all around the huge structure will be a wide promenade. In this immense auditorium the Chautauque Assembly will hold its sessions and it will be used for the big conventions and mass meetings which are a feature of this popular city by the sea.

The dancing pavilion, which was destroyed by fire last winter, has been replaced with another at the extreme end of the pier, which reaches out a third of a mile into the sea, and this pier is one of the chief attractions of the place, built to meet the requirements of commerce and sea-going travel as well as pleasure. It cost

$100,000, and is one of the improvements of the past two years. It affords an unrivaled marine view, inadequate, as it is built in two levels, the upper being used exclusively for a pleasure promenade, while the lower is devoted to the storage of barges. Lifted high above the roaring breakers one can walk out

1500 feet over the ocean billows.

On the west side of the pier is the magnificent bath-house which has not its equal south of San Francisco—or north of it. It is equipped with every modern accessory and is itself a palatial affair with its 500 dressing-rooms, hot and cold salt baths, plunge and swimming tanks. The upper portion of this big bathing pavilion is devoted to an extensive promenade and on the ground floor are bowling alleys for those who desire this sport.

The cost of the bath-house equaled that of the pier.

Two new bank buildings will be erected this summer. One at the corner of Pine and First streets—a modern five-story building, and the other at the corner of First and Locust streets. Long Beach will then have six banks, two of them savings banks.

As an illustration of the increase in valuation of property in this bustling town and as a hint of the fortune made there by simply "holding on," may be quoted this one. An old resident who came there in 1884, bought a corner for the modest sum of $1200 and last week was offered $100,000 for it.

The recent extension of the local street car line has opened up a lot of new territory east of the town and it is in this section that the growth has been most rapid. Pretty little cottages surrounded by tasteful lawns, have sprung up like magic—the permanent homes of hundreds of citizens.

A beautiful park stretching along the bluff and immediately overlooking the sea has been laid out. The Redondo avenue line of street cars runs out two miles in this direction giving easy connection, for a single fare, with the electric lines reaching the resorts on the east—Bay City, Sunset

Beach, Alamitos, Bala, and Huntington Beach.

The high moral tone of Long Beach which finds expression in the vigorous

"no-saloon" policy, makes it an attractive place for homes and for family life. It is a healthy community—physically, morally, socially and intellectually—and has the promise of sound and lasting prosperity that goes with such conditions. The private residences display an elegance that denotes thrift and taste, the many styles of architecture giving to the place that idea of cosmopolitan life that characterizes all growing and wealthy western towns and indicates that the residents come from the four

As the child went down, Suller dropped the oars and leaped after it, but when they came to the surface he found they were quite a distance from the skiff, and he was unable to reach it, being barely able to keep himself and child afloat.
